United Way of Central Oklahoma

Live United
“Knowing is not enough; we must apply. Willing is not enough; we must do.”
- Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

A lifeline, a passion, a job, a roadmap to a better future. These are just a few things that United Way of Central Oklahoma represents to the people in the community.

For some, United Way finds solutions for those who are desperate for help; United Way is a link to urgently needed services. For others, United Way presents a way to give back to the community in ways that leave their imprints on lives and on the future.

And for some, United Way is a passion; a way of life. These service-minded people possess a unique dedication that draws philanthropic entrepreneurs with a heart for lending hands up to those in need of a boost.

Featured in this book are the many thousands of United Way of Central Oklahoma Leadership Givers. These people represent what it is to be forward-thinking, caring, generous and selfless civic leaders.

They share their valuable time volunteering in the community, serving on boards and in countless other ways. They share their resources with generosity and their strengths without reserve to better the community and United Way of Central Oklahoma.

In these pages, you’ll find central Oklahoma’s best and brightest whose hearts for health and human services are unrivaled. For that devotion to the United Way mission, we thank you wholeheartedly. The work you do today will help ensure a beautiful future for the generations who will carry on your legacy of giving back.
The individuals listed here are donors contributing to United Way of Central Oklahoma, United Way of Canadian County and United Way of Logan County in the summer and fall of 2015. Much of the data is based on information submitted by companies and organizations between June 1, 2015 and April 1, 2016.

In addition to the individuals, families and companies listed in this book, we recognize the generosity of those members who wish to remain anonymous.

Every effort has been made to accurately include all Leadership Giving members. We apologize for any errors or omissions. For corrections, questions or additional information on leadership programs, please contact the Director of Major Gifts at 405.236.8441 or leadership@unitedwayokc.org.
Every spring an exclusive reception honors the members of United Way’s Leadership Giving Societies. We come together to share good food and the good company of friends. We toast to the generosity of more than 5,000 donors who care deeply about their neighbors and lead the way in improving the well-being of our communities.

We appreciate our friends at Gaylord Pickens Museum for their partnership and support of the 2015 event, which allowed us to acknowledge and thank those who so graciously LIVE UNITED for the common good of central Oklahoma.

United Way’s Tocqueville Society is the giving level reserved for our most generous and community-minded contributors. Tocqueville members represent those who are willing to truly invest in the welfare of our community. As our community’s philanthropic leaders, they understand the significant role they fulfill as individuals supporting the business of caring for our most vulnerable citizens and solutions for the ever-evolving human needs we encounter within our community.

Tocqueville members contribute $10,000 or more annually to United Way. Their contributions make a significant impact on our community and those seeking the services of our Partner Agencies. Their gifts will have an impact on central Oklahomans for generations to come.

Alexis de Tocqueville, for whom the society is named, famously documented the American public’s unique willingness to work for the public welfare – a tendency to lend faithful support to neighbors and countrymen, especially in times of need.

“We support the United Way because the United Way is the ‘belt and suspenders' for charitable organizations in central Oklahoma. You can be confident that if an organization is a United Way Partner Agency, that the agency has rigorous financial accountability and is run efficiently. This became apparent to me when I served on the Board of the Boys and Girls Club of Central Oklahoma and we had to prepare for the United Way mandatory audit and site inspection. The United Way's rigorous requirements of its member non-profit organizations always impressed me and assured me that our charitable donations were being put to good and efficient use.”

The family of Lee Allan Smith has a legacy of giving back to our community, not only monetarily but they give back countless volunteer hours sharing much needed expertise to the nonprofit sector.

Lee Allan's long career in sales, advertising and event planning has placed their family at the center of some of the state's most impressive galas and celebrations. Lee Allan can make friends with anybody, and that ability has placed him also at the epicenter of central Oklahoma's most influential circles.

But as the center of his family, Lee Allan has carried on a legacy of giving for which his parents, Florence Phelps and William Smith, laid the groundwork. His father was a salesman and a musician in a band. His mother was a dedicated Presbyterian who raised four boys, and taught her sons the value of hard work and to be proud Americans.

Lee Allan has been a faithful contributor to United Way of Central Oklahoma and an invaluable community ambassador for the organization since 1956, encouraging his influential network of friends and colleagues to rally around helping the area's most needy. In the early 1980s, Lee Allan served on the Board and in 1983, as Campaign Chair.

In 2002, Lee Allan was presented United Way of Central Oklahoma’s most prestigious recognition, the Richard H. Clements Lifetime Achievement Award. His good friend, Ray Ackerman said of him, “Lee Allan Smith is the only person Oklahoma City can’t do without.”

Lee Allan was also instrumental in the naming of a popular area of Bricktown, “United Way Plaza,” which is paved with bricks honoring Tocqueville members at the time of its inception. Lee Allan loves to incorporate important community organizations when planning new endeavors.

His wife, DeAnn and three daughters, DeLee Smith, Jennifer Kiersch and Wendy House have spent the past five decades watching Lee Allan make tangible and intangible imprints on the state he so loves.

“He is so proud of our city and state and loves more than anything to do things for the community,” said his daughter, Jennifer Kiersch. “I think that makes us feel the same way.”

Like her father, Jennifer continually performs her civic duties. She’s served on nonprofit boards including Special Care, DeadCenter and OKC Beautiful. Her sister Wendy has served on the Integris Gala Committee and Heritage Hall’s Alumni Committee. She has also been involved with the Boy Scouts of America, the Alzheimer’s Association, the Girl Scouts of America, Make a Wish Foundation and Flight for Sight. DeLee has been a member of the Junior League of Oklahoma City. All three sisters are members of Kappa Alpha Theta, with Wendy currently serving on the Advisory Board.

After the tornado disasters of 2013, Lee Allan and Jennifer were instrumental in coordinating the sold-out “Healing the Heartland” concert that brought in millions of dollars to help those who were affected by the tornadoes.

Lee Allan and his family are driven by a great love of Oklahoma and a desire to see it become an even better place to live.
Loyal Contributors are those who have been contributing to any United Way for 10 years or more. Longtime donors to the United Way make significant improvements in the lives of people throughout our community because they give consistently. In the 93 years United Way of Central Oklahoma has existed, we have been fortunate to cultivate some of the most loyal and generous donors. Because of these loyal contributions, United Way is able to invest in the sustainable change we all want to see in our community.

Major General Stanley Newman holds the distinction of being United Way of Central Oklahoma’s most loyal contributor on record, giving for nearly 70 years.

Major General Newman started giving to United Way in 1948 while serving in the military. Mr. Newman was a P-51 Mustang pilot in the Army Air Corps during World War II and said that all service men were encouraged to give to United Way.

When he moved to central Oklahoma, he began contributing to his new local United Way. “When I got out of the service, I just kept it up because it takes care of so many absolutely necessary things that have to be done for the people who haven’t been as fortunate as I have,” he said.

“My religion encourages charity,” Mr. Newman said.

He is Jewish and the Hebrew word for the obligation of charitable giving, Tzedakah, is a fundamental part of the Jewish way of life. He has imparted this belief in giving back to his community on his family.

With three children, three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren, Mr. Newman has much for which to be thankful. He said that he’s encouraged his large family to be thankful for their blessings and to have a heart for the community.
Central Oklahoma has a special niche for young adults aspiring to be the leaders of tomorrow. United Way offers young adults contributing at a level of $500 and above a unique opportunity to join their own affinity group, Emerging Leaders. This group not only contributes financially, but is also dedicated to giving back with their time.

Members participate in numerous community volunteer activities throughout the year, including an Easter egg hunt for low-income families and a holiday dance for seniors at Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Oklahoma City’s Trinity Garden Apartments.

Emerging Leaders also enjoy network with peers and learn valuable lessons from community leaders. Through the Lunches with Leaders series, members heard from established business leaders, including campaign co-chairs Mike Turpen and Judy Love, and Keith Mitchell, COO of OG&E. Emerging Leaders also connected with United Way Partner Agency representatives and directors such as Barbara Butner, Calm Waters and Mike Slack, Circle of Care.

The United Way of Central Oklahoma Women’s Leadership Society unites women — their time, talent and resources — into a powerful network of individuals devoted to enhancing and strengthening intergeneration opportunities within our community. With an annual donation of $2,500 or more, these women leverage the collective power of women supporting United Way of Central Oklahoma.

The Women’s Leadership Society provides a number of educational opportunities with renowned speakers and researchers on topics such as generational giving habits and issues that currently affect central Oklahoma, including mental health and homelessness. In addition, the Society hosts events that provide a benefit to the community.

A nationally-recognized group of female philanthropists, Women’s Leadership Society’s ultimate focus is to develop new leadership for central Oklahoma through learning opportunities, mentoring and a shared vision of community engagement.

Timothy Rooney
City Manager, Mustang

“For me it’s a very personal decision. My parents instilled in me the importance of giving back to the community and those less fortunate than me. United Way provides me an opportunity to do so in a manner that directs resources where they are needed most.”
